SUMMIT BUSINESS ADVISORS

Proposal and Scope of Work

Decision rights for a regional distributor, prepared for its founder.

Executive summary

The founder still approves pricing and staffing at both sites, so decisions that should take an hour take two days. This proposal sets out a ten-week project to move those decisions to the site leads.

Where you are today

Two sites, ninety people, and one person who signs off on everything that matters.

What we heard

The site leads know what to do. They wait for a yes, and the yes comes a day later.

Our recommendation

Write down who decides what, and review weekly instead of approving daily.

Scope of work

Map the decisions, write the rules with the site leads, try them at one site, then roll them out.

Timeline and investment

Ten weeks. The fee and terms are set out in the attached letter.

Next steps

A kickoff at the first site with the founder and both site leads.
